NEWSLETTER / NUUSBRIEF FEBRUARY 2010

XXV RENAL CONGRESS – 16-19 APRIL 2010 CONFERENCE CENTRE: CAPE TOWN

From the President's desk

Everywhere we look it is World cup soccer fever. Before we all put our support behind Bafana Bafana in June; the 2010 nephrology congress in Cape Town is lurking (16-19 April).

A special thank you to all our sponsors, whether it was towards the website, newsletter, sponsoring the NDT publication to all RCSSA members or anything contributed to the success of the RCSSA. It is greatly appreciated.

I also would like to thank each member of EXCO for their dedication, enthusiasm and hard work. 2009 was a busy, challenging year for the RCSSA EXCO. Not only is each member busy with their own career, but we are also busy with quite a few new and continuing projects.

The constitution of the RCSSA is revised, ethical congress guidelines are proposed and we are also busy with clinical guidelines. You will receive quite a few SMS's and E-mails in the next few months, where we need your input and feedback. Where possible please respond promptly to these requests. In order to receive these updates, the secretary must have your contact details.

If you have not received a NDT magazine this year and your membership fees are paid, please contact Heilie Uys to confirm your details.

May I take this opportunity to wish all the members from the RCSSA a wonderful 2010 and we are looking forward seeing you at the congress.

Nephrology Dialysis Dialysis Transplantation Journal

I am sure members were surprised to receive a copy of the NDT Journal in their post boxes! This Journal is a SA Excerpts Edition of the official publication of the European Renal Association – European Dialysis and Transplant Association.

Our thanks go to MedSpec Publishing and Prof. Sarala Naicker (Editor) for including RCSSA members in the distribution list of the NDT Journal (SA Excerpts Edition).

Your comments on this Journal will be welcomed.

World Transplant Games Australia 2009

In the July 2009 Newsletter we have reported that three of our members were involved in the WTG in Australia, August 2009.

We are proud to announce that Denise King fulfilled her role as attending Nurse with distinction! She handled many a crisis with great skills and ensured that the athletes were in excellent health.

Robyn Emslie had tough rounds of lawn bowls against Canada and Hong Kong to win the gold medal in her age group.

Heilie Uys won gold in her age group for golf, shot put, discus and ball throw.

These athletes are already busy training to prepare for the South African National Transplant Games, 8-9 October 2010, in order to qualify for the SA Team to participate at the WTG in Sweden 2011.

Go for it girls!!!

Diabetes SA fundraising projects:

- Due to the fact that they are solely relying on sponsorship for funding they are urging everybody to please assist them with fundraising, they ask if the private companies can please think about advertising on the website for a small fee
- They are also selling Inso Go cooler bags at R45 as well as wristbands for R10
- If people buy books from Kalahari.net, diabetes SA also receives a small amount for each book sold on the internet.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN PD

AWAK, which stands for Automated Wearable Artificial Kidney, is an ambulatory (portable) form of peritoneal dialysis.

The AWAK device uses a variant of peritoneal dialysis. Dialysate is infused into the peritoneal cavity so that dialysis can occur. What differentiates AWAK from either existing peritoneal dialysis or hemodialysis technology is that it is both wearable and self-contained. Patients are able to live their lives with unrestricted mobility. More importantly, they do not have to regularly replace the dialysate as the AWAK continually regenerates the used dialysate through a sorbent cartridge. AWAK combines the at-home convenience of peritoneal dialysis with unprecedented freedom from routine peritoneal dialysate changes or hemodialysis sessions.
